

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Two important books, not having been received when the Catalogue was drawn up, were omitted in the main body, and are placed here. The first work properly belongs to page 5, and the second to page 63.

1549.—THE BIBLE, whych is all the Holy Scripture: in whych are contained the Olde and Newe Testament, truelye and purely translated into Englishe by Thomas Matthew, 1537, and now imprinted in the Yeaere of oure Lorde M.D.XLIX., by Thomas Raynolde and William Hyll, dwelling in Paule's Churchē Yeard.—Fol., London, 1549. In Black Letter. (G.)

BIBLIA SACRA LATINA cum postillis Nicolai de Lyra.—6 vols. fol., Argentinae, 1501. (G.)

The Prologue commences thus: "In nomine sanctae Trinitatis: incipit prologus primus venerabilis fratris Nicolai de Lyra ordinis seraphici Francisci: de comendatione Sacre Scripture in generali." Nicolai was born at Lyre, in Normandy, in the 13th century, of Jewish parents. He embraced Christianity at an early age, and entered the order of Franciscans at Verneuil in 1291. He was distinguished as a Hebrew scholar, and wrote several works defending Christianity against the attacks of Jewish writers. Walchius says of him: "In explaining the literal sense of the Holy Scriptures he excelled most of his cotemporaries. On those passages of the New Testament which derive illustration from Jewish antiquities, he has thrown considerable light. Unshackled by the authority of the Fathers, he thought for himself, as his works sufficiently discover." The labours of Nicolai de Lyra are regarded as having led to the Reformation. It has been said,

"Si Lyra non lyrasset, Lutherus non saltasset;"

which was afterwards translated thus:

"If Lyra had not harped on profanation, Luther had not planned the Reformation."

ENGLISH VERSIONS.

1526.—The Newe Testament. MDXXVI. THE

NEW TESTAMENT of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; published in 1526. Being the first translation (of the New Testament) from the Greek into English, by that eminent scholar and martyr, William Tyndale. Reprinted verbatim; with a memoir of his life and writings, by George Ofor; together with the proceedings and correspondence of Henry VIII., Sir T. Moore, and Lord Cromwell.—Imp. 8vo, (Bagster), London, 1836. (G.)

1535.—BIBLIA, The Bible; that is, the Holy Scripture

of the Olde and New Testament, faithfully and truly translated into English, MDXXXV. S. Paul, II. Thess. III.: Praise for us, that the worde of God maie haue fre passage and be glorified, &c. Reprinted from the copy in the Library of the Duke of Sussex.—4to, (Bagster), London, 1838. (G.)

This is a reprint of the Bible translated by Myles Coverdale. The title is in Black; the text was originally printed in a Gothic type. On the reverse of the last leaf of the New Testament is, "Prynted in the yeaere of oure Lorde MDXXXV., and fynished the fourth daye of October." This version was the first entire Bible printed in English. It is dedicated to Henry VIII. by the translator. The title is inserted in a curious historical woodcut. When the work was completed it was presented to the king, who delivered it to Bishop Gardiner and others to examine; but they were so dilatory in reporting, that the king made a requisition on them for their opinion, to which they replied, "there were many faults in it." "Well," said the king, "but are there any heresies maintained in it?" To which they answered, "None that they could find." "Then, in God's name," added the king, "let it go abroad among our people." [See Cotton's List of Eng. Editions of the Bible, fol. 3, 111. Also, see Bibliotheca Sussexiana, vol. ii., fol. 281.] The original copies had no date or place of publication.

1557.—THE NEWE TESTAMENT of our Lord Jesus Christ,

conferred diligently with the Greke, and best approved translations. With the arguments as well before the chapters as for every Boke and Epistle; also diversities of readings, &c., &c.—Reprinted, 12mo, London, 1842. (G.)

This is a fac-simile reprint of the celebrated Genevan Testament, the original edition of which was the first in which the verses are distinguished by figures. The translation differs from that which, three years afterwards, was printed at the same place in connection with the Old Testament. The vignette represents Time restoring Truth from a cave. At the end of the book is this imprint: "Printed by Conrad Badius MDLVII this X of IVNE." [See Cotton, p. 14, 138.]

1572.—THE HOLIE BIBLE, conteyning the Olde Testament and the Newe. Printed by Richard Jugg.—Fol., London, 1572. (G.)

This is the second folio edition of Parker's, or the "Bishops'" Bible; so called, because translated chiefly by bishops of the English Church. The first edition was published in 1568. The second differs somewhat from the first. The Almanac begins with 1572, and ends with 1610. The Calendar has the signs of the Zodiac on the inner margin. Most of the Romish saints are taken away. The woodcut at the beginning of Genesis is different, and is inserted in a frame-work composed of another woodcut. It has less than one fourth the number of engravings that the first edition contained. It has a double version of the Psalms, one in Black letter, which is used in the Prayer Book, the other from the Hebrew in Roman letter. The first edition and this contained portraits on copperplate of Queen Elizabeth, Lord Leicester, and Lord Burleigh, which were not inserted in any subsequent edition, and were not originally added to every copy even of these two editions. There is a perfect copy in the Library of Baliol College of the edition of 1572, in which the portraits have never been impressed. Dr. Cotton remarks, that these two editions are very frequently found robbed of their portraits; and the present copy must rank either among the neglected or the pilfered ones. It is also otherwise imperfect: the title page is wanting, and much of the preliminary matter. It has, however, the Prologue of Archbishop Cranmer, with his coat of arms in the initial letter (that of Lord Leicester is in the initial to the Book of Joshua), and various woodcuts, as in the first edition. The leaf of the New Testament containing the 13th and portions of the 12th and 14th chapters of John, has been lost, and its place supplied with one from a different edition. An aperture in the leaf containing the 19th chapter of Acts, at the 17th, 18th, and 19th verses, is supplied in MS. With all its imperfections, however, the copy is very rare and valuable. It was the authorized version to be read in public for nearly half a century previous to King James's version, and was the standard for his translators. Anderson states that there were thirty-two editions of this version issued. This copy is in the original oak binding, covered with leather. [See Cotton's List, &c., p. 17, 125.]

1575.—HOLIE BIBLE. (The Bishops'.) Printed by J. Judson.—Fol., London, 1575. (G.)

This is a very imperfect copy of one of the later editions of the Bishops' Bible. It was once in the possession of Sir William Pepperell, and the autograph on the inside of the cover is supposed to be his.

1578.—THE FOUR GOSPELS (Black letter), being a remnant of the New Testament.—32mo, 1578. (G.)

Title page gone, and all the rest of the volume after the first leaf of the Book of Acts. It is not mentioned by Cotton or Pettigrew. An Almanac, with lessons for morning and evening prayer, precedes Matthew.

1580.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. Imprinted by Christopher Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1580. (G.)

Not mentioned by Cotton. The text is in Black letter, the marginal readings, &c., in Roman. It has no Apocrypha. Nearly all the preliminary matter and the title page to the Old Testament are wanting. It contains arguments to the books, and at the end of the Old Testament, "The Summe of the whole Scripture of the Bookes of the Olde and Newe Testament," and "Certain Questions and Answeres touching the Doctrine of Predestination, the use of God's Word and Sacraments," &c. At the end of the New Testament are "Two right profitable and fruitfull Concordances, or large and ample tables alphabetically," &c., &c. Altogether, it is a curious volume.

1580.—THE NEW TESTAMENT, from the Latin of Theo. Beza; with short expositions by Villerius; Englished by Tomson.—12mo, London, 1580. (G.)

Imperfect—beginning with Luke, vi., 11, and ending with Rev., xiii., 5.

1583.—THE BIBLE. (Genevan.) Translated according to the Ebrew and Greeke, &c., with most profitable annotations, &c. Imprinted by Chr. Barker, Printer to the Queen's most excellent Maiestie, &c.—Fol., London, 1583. (G.)

This version contains a Poem on the value of the Bible; various and curious woodcuts, maps, diagrams, &c., and is a perfect copy, and a beautiful specimen of Black letter type. The Book of Psalms, as well as the Old and New Testaments, have each an engraved title page. The first Genevan edition was that of 1560, which contained an epistle to the queen, and another to the reader, not inserted in the subsequent edition. Upwards of fifty editions of this version were printed during thirty years. Mr. Cotton says its notes were retained in some of the editions of King James's version as late as 1715. "This Bible," says Mr. Pettigrew, "is well known as the 'BREECHES BIBLE,' from the translation of Gen., iii., 7. The Genevan translation is unquestionably the first to print it so, but I find that it is used in a MS. Wicliff Bible now in the British Museum, in 2 vols., fol. The passage reads thus: 'And whan yei knewen yat ya were nakid, ya sewiden ye levis of a fig tre, and madin breechis to hem self.'" [See Bib. Sussexiana, p. 307.] The passage in this edition of the Genevan version differs from Wicliff, and reads thus: "And they knew that they were naked, and they sewed figge tree leaves together, and made themselves breeches."

1595.—THE BIBLE. (Genevan.) Imprinted by the deputies of Chr. Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1595. (G.)

This edition also contains the Poem, and many of the plates and maps of that of 1583, in smaller size. It is in Roman letter. At the end is an imperfect copy of Sternhold and Hopkins's Psalms, in Black letter.

1596.—THE BIBLE. (Black letter. Title in Roman.) Imprinted by the deputies of Chr. Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1596. (G.)

Not found in the Sussex Catalogue. Dr. Cotton mentions but three copies of it. This copy is imperfect in its preliminaries; and the whole of Genesis, and the first ten chapters of Exodus, are supplied from the authorized edition of 1613, being of the same letter. After the New Testament there are "Two right profitable and fruitfull Concordances, &c., alphabetically," &c., with a Preface by Robert F. Herrey, dated 1578; after which is a nearly perfect copy of Sternhold and Hopkins's Psalms, set to music, with a commendatory preface to the reader, as a work whereby he may "the more easily come to the knowledge of perfect solefaying." After the Psalms are the Ten Commandments, the Lord's Prayer, the Creed, and a Prayer to the Holy Ghost, all in metre, and set to music, together with the benediction, a lamentation, and a thanksgiving, with a closing prayer, commencing thus:

"Preserve us, Lord, by thy deare Worde;
from Pope and Turke defend us, Lorde, which both would thrust out of his throne,
our Lord Jesus Christ, thy deare Sonne."

1599.—THE BIBLE. (Genevan version.) Imprinted by the deputies of Chr. Barker.—4to, London, 1599. (G.)

An imperfect copy. Title page of the Old and the New Testament wanting; also the text of the Old Testament to 2 Chron., xxii., and of the New Testament to Matt., vi., and all after 1 Cor., x. It has no Apocrypha, and no authority for the date, except a MS. note by its former owner. Of this edition Dr. Cotton says, "The impression was probably a very large one, as it appears to be the most common of all the Genevan editions."

1601.—THE BIBLE. (Beza's translation.) Imprinted by Robert Barker, Printer, &c., &c.—4to, London, 1601. (G.)

An imperfect copy. Title page of the Old Testament and first four chapters of Genesis wanting.

1605.—THE BIBLE. (Black letter.) Imprinted by Robert Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1605. (G.)

A similar edition to that of 1596. This copy also is imperfect. Title pages gone. The only interest that attaches to this copy is in some MS. verses prefixed to the volume, with the following note appended: "This Bible was brought to America by one of the New England Pilgrims. The accident which befell it, and the manner in which it was repaired, are faithfully described in the following verses," &c. Dated Norwich, 1828.

1610.—THE BIBLE; that is, the Holy Scriptures contained in the Old and New Testament; translated according to the Ebrew and Greeke, &c. Imprinted by Robert Barker, Printer, &c.—Fol., London, 1610. (G.)

This is one of the last editions of the Genevan version, previous to that of King James. But one copy of it is mentioned by Dr. Cotton, that of the Earl of Bridgewater. The Old and New Testaments and the Psalms have each an engraved title page.

1610.—THE HOLY BIBLE, faithfully translated into English, &c., with arguments of the books and chapters, annotations, tables, and other helps for the better understanding of the text, &c. By the English College of Doway, &c.—2 vols. 4to, Doway, 1610. (G.)

This is a copy of the first edition of the Doway Bible. It contains the Old Testament and the Apocrypha. The New Testament was published at Rheims, A.D. 1582, and is not included in these volumes, which seem to have belonged to different sets.

1610.—THE HOLY SCRIPTURES, &c., translated according to the Ebrew and Greeke, &c., with most profitable annotations, &c., by Theodore Beza. Englished by L. Tomson. Imprinted by Robert Barker.—Fol., London, 1610. In Black letter. (G.)

1611.—THE HOLY BIBLE, conteyning the Old Testament and the New. Newly translated out of the original tongues, and with the former translations diligently compared and revised, by His Maiestie's speciall commandement. Appointed to be read in churches. Imprinted at London by Robert Barker, &c., Anno Domini MDCXI.—Imp. 4to, reprinted at the University Press, Oxford, 1833. (G.)

version published in the year 1611, in Black letter, folio, with the Translators' Preface, the Apocrypha, and the Dedication to the King. It is collated with a subsequent edition of 1613, and a list of various readings appended. The reprint of the text is so exactly literatim as to retain even the manifest errors of the press.

- 1612.—THE HOLY BIBLE, conteyning the Old Testament and the New, &c., &c. (King James's version.) Imprinted by R. Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1612. (G.)

This edition is in Roman letter, and very scarce. No copy is mentioned by Pettigrew, and but one by Cotton. The title is arranged in the form of a heart, with broad woodcut borders, containing the names of the twelve patriarchs and of the apostles. This copy is imperfect, wanting the title page to the Old Testament and all the preliminary matter.

- 1612.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.) Imprinted by Robert Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1612. (G.)

The arrangement of the title, &c., is similar to the edition last named. All the preliminary matter, the title page to the Old Testament, the first twenty-one chapters of Genesis, the Apocrypha, part of the last chapter of Revelation, and a portion of Sternhold and Hopkins's Psalms, are wanting. It is also otherwise mutilated. It seems to be a corrected edition of the preceding.

- 1613.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.) Imprinted by Robert Barker, &c., &c.—Fol., London, 1613. (G.)

It contains the Translators' Preface and the Dedication, with the usual preliminary Calendar, Almanac, Tables, &c., with thirty-four pages of genealogies. The text is in Black letter.

- 1613.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c., &c. (King James's version.) Imprinted by R. Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1613. (G.)

This is similar in its arrangement to the folio edition of the same date. The New Testament bears date 1614. The text is in small Black letter. It contains the Dedication, the Translators' Address, and Speed's Genealogies, with a curious map and description of Canaan. All the matter, except the text, is in Roman letter; the marginal readings in Italic.

- 1615.—THE BIBLE. (Genevan version.) Imprinted by Robert Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1615. (G.)

This edition is similar to the 4to of 1612. The text is in Black letter, the notes in Roman.

- 1617.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c., &c. (King James's version.) Imprinted by Robert Barker, &c.—Fol., London, 1617. (G.)

- 1628.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.) Imprinted by Bonham, Norton, and J. Bill, &c.—4to, London, 1628. (G.)

- 1629.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.) Imprinted by Thomas and John Buck, Printers to the University of Cambridge.—Fol., Anno Dom. 1629. (G.)

- 1630.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)

Printed by Thomas and John Buck, &c.—4to, Cambridge, Anno Dom. 1630. (G.)

This edition is in Black letter. The title page of the Old Testament is wanting; that of the New is inserted in the form of a heart, with a heavy woodcut border, containing the names of the patriarchs and apostles. Prefixed are chronological charts, maps, the Book of Common Prayer, &c., and at the end Sternhold and Hopkins's Psalms.

1630.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Imprinted by Robert Barker, &c.—4to, London, 1630. (G.)

This copy is in Roman letter, and in red ruling. The title page to the Old Testament, the Apocrypha, &c., are wanting. It has Sternhold and Hopkins's Psalms at the end.

1630.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Imprinted by Robert Barker and John Bill, Printers, &c.—8vo, London, 1630. (G.)

The title page to the Old Testament is wanting.

1630.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by Robert Barker and the assigns of John Bill.—8vo, London, 1630. (G.)

The title pages are wanting, and the volume is otherwise imperfect. The date and imprint are at the end of the volume. It has tables of chronology prefixed.

1632.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by R. Barker and Assignees of John Bill.—8vo, London, 1632. (G.)
It is somewhat mutilated.

1637.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by Thomas Buck and Roger Daniel, Printers to the University.—4to, Cambridge, 1637. (G.)

This edition is in Roman type. The Prayer Book precedes the Old Testament. The title page of the New Testament is wanting.

1639.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by Robert Barker and Assignees of John Bill.—8vo, London, 1639. (G.)

This copy is in red ruling.

1639.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. Printed by R. Barker, Printer, &c., and by the Assignees of J. Bill.—4to, London, 1639. (G.)

In Black letter. The Prayer Book is prefixed, and a Concordance by J. Downe appended, with Sternhold and Hopkins's Psalms, and forms of prayer.

1640.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by R. Barker and Assignees of J. Bill.—8vo, London, 1640. (G.)

1642.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c., as above.—8vo, London, 1642. (G.)

This copy has lost part of the Apocrypha and all the New Testament. It is in red ruling.

- 1648.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by R. Barker.—12mo, London, 1648. (G.)

It is without the Apocrypha.

- 1653.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (Field's Pearl edition.)
—32mo, London, 1653. (G.)

The title page to the Old Testament is lost, and that of the New Testament transposed to its place in rebinding. This copy is in red ruling, and bound in morocco; and, according to tradition, was once in the possession of the poet Milton.

- 1657.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Field.—12mo, London, 1657. (G.)

It has no Apocrypha.

- 1658.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Field, one of His Highness's Printers.—24mo, London, 1658. (G.)

No Apocrypha. A correct and beautiful edition, and has sometimes been sold at £4.

- 1660.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by Henry Hills and John Field.—12mo, London, 1660. (G.)

It is without the Apocrypha. The title page to the Old Testament is wanting.

- 1660.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Field.—12mo, London, 1660. (G.)

It is without the Apocrypha. This copy is in red ruling, and is a beautiful volume.

- 1660.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Field.—Fol., Cambridge, 1660. (G.)

A fine edition on large paper.

- 1661.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Field, Printer to the University.—8vo, Cambridge, 1661. (G.)

Without the Apocrypha.

- 1666.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Field.—4to, Cambridge, 1666. (G.)

In Roman letter. The title page to the Old Testament is wanting. It has no Apocrypha. At the end is a Concordance, part of which is wanting.

- 1668.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Field.—4to, Cambridge, 1668. (G.)

In Roman letter. This edition has no Apocrypha, and no preliminary matter, except the Dedication. Appended is a copy of the Psalms in metre, with a title, representing it as "more plain, smooth, and agreeable" than any previous versions; and as "allowed by the General Assembly of the Kirk of Scotland, and appointed to be sung in congregations and families."

- 1671.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by the Assigns of J. Bill, and Christopher Barker, &c.—8vo, London, 1671. (G.)

In Roman letter. "In the Savoy." This edition is accompanied by the Prayer Book and Sternhold and Hopkins's Psalms.

- 1713.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Baskett and the Assigns of Thomas Newcomb and Henry Hills.—12mo, London, 1713. (G.)

This edition is in red ruling, and has no Apocrypha.

- 1726.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by J. Baskett.—4to, Oxford, 1726. (G.)

This edition has the Prayer Book and metrical Psalms, and is embellished with numerous engravings.

- 1730.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
"Printed in the year MDCCXXX."—4to. (G.)

The date of the New Testament is 1728, and is without the name of its place of publication. The Prayer Book, which is prefixed, bears date, London, 1728.

- 1730.—THE NEW TESTAMENT, &c., according to the ancient Latin edition, with critical remarks, &c., from the French of Father Simon. By William Webster, curate, &c.—2 vols. 4to, London, 1730. (G.)

- 1739.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by John Baskett, Printer to the University.—12mo, Oxford, 1739. (G.)

It has the Scotch Psalms in verse, but no Apocrypha.

- 1747.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
University Press.—2 vols. 4to, Oxford, 1747. (G.)

This copy is interleaved, probably for its owner's use, as it has various MS. notes.

- 1749.—THE NEW TESTAMENT, &c., translated out of the Latin Vulgate, diligently compared with the Greek, and first published by the English College of Rheims, Anno 1582. Newly revised, &c., with annotations for clearing up modern controversies in religion, &c.—12mo, Rheims, 1749. (G.)

This is the authorized version of the Romish Church.

- 1754.—THE NEW TESTAMENT, with explanatory notes by Rev. John Westley, A.M.—8vo, London, 1754.—(G.)

- 1761.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &c. (King James's version.)
Printed by Thomas Baskett.—4to, London, 1761. (G.)

- 1764.—THE HOLY BIBLE, illustrated and explained, &c., together with the Books of the Apocrypha. Embellished with 110 engravings, &c. By Rev. John Butley.—2 vols. 4to, London, 1764. (G.)

1769.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &amp;c. (King James's version.)

Printed by T. Wright and W. Gill, Printers to the University.—2 vols. 4to, Oxford, 1769. (G.)

1769.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &amp;c. (King James's version.)

Printed by T. Wright and W. Gill, &c.—3 vols. 4to, Oxford, 1769. (G.)

This is generally entitled "The Standard Edition." It was corrected by Rev. Dr. Blaney, under the direction of the vice-chancellor, and delegates of the Clarendon Press at Oxford. The punctuation was carefully revised, the words in Italic were compared with the Hebrew and Greek originals, running titles corrected, &c., &c., and 30,495 new marginal references inserted, &c. A simultaneous folio edition was printed with this, and in overrunning the folio into the 4to size, the words "AT ALL IN THEE" were omitted from Rev., xviii., 22. The first editions were issued in 1762. [Gent.'s Mag., vol. xxxix., p. 517.]

1782.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &amp;c. (King James's version.)

Printed and sold by R. Aitken, at Pope's Head, three doors above the Coffee House in Market Street.—12mo, Philadelphia, 1782. (G.)

The New Testament bears date 1781. This is a copy of the edition of the Bible reported to Congress by the committee previously appointed on the subject, and respecting which the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That the United States, in Congress assembled, highly approve the pious and laudable undertaking of Mr. AITKEN, as subservient to the interest of religion, as well as an instance of the progress of arts in this country; and being satisfied, from the above report, of his care and accuracy in the execution of the work, they recommend this edition of the Bible to the inhabitants of the United States; and hereby authorize him to publish this recommendation in the manner he shall think proper.

"CHA. THOMSON, Secretary."

The report and the recommendation are prefixed to the Bible, and are a standing memento that the fathers of our country deemed the circulation of the Bible important to its political as well as religious interests.

1785.—THE NEW TESTAMENT, &amp;c. (King James's version.)

Printed at the Clarendon Press by W. Jackson, &c.—12mo, Oxford, 1785. (G.)

1790.—THE HOLY BIBLE, &amp;c., (King James's version),

IN FOREIGN LANGUAGES.

POLYGLOTTA.

1599.—NOVUM TESTAMENTUM DOM. NOS. JESU CHRISTI; Syriacè, Ebraicè, Graecè, Latinè, Germanicè, Bohemicè, Italicè, Hispanicè, Gallicè, Anglicè, Danicè, Polonicè; studio et labore, ELIAE HUTTERI. Germani.—2 vols. fol., Noribergae, 1599. (E.)

This New Testament is in twelve languages. The Hebrew translation is Hutter's, (made by him in one year.) The Syriac is that of Tremellius, of 1569, with additions by Hutter. The Greek is from the ordinary version. The Latin is the Vulgate. The German is Luther's. The Bohemian is from the edition of 1593. The Italian is the Genevan of 1562. The Spanish is that of Cassiodorus Reyna of 1569. The French is the Genevan of 1588. The English is from the Great Bible of 1562. The Danish is from the edition of 1550; and the Polish, that of 1596. This copy contains only the New Testament. Complete copies of the whole Polyglott are very rare. The Old Testament is in four parts and six languages, viz.: Hebrew, Chaldaic, Greek, Latin, German, and Gallic in the first part; the other three parts the same, with the exception of the last-mentioned language, which in Part II. is Italic; Part III. Saxon; and Part IV. Sclavonic. The manner in which the Hebrew in this Polyglott is printed renders it very useful to students; the radical letters being printed in full characters, and over the line those that may be wanting in the word. The serviles are printed in hollow, or open characters. [See Pettigrew, vol. i., p. 87.]

1657.—BIBLIA SACRA POLYGLOTTA, Complectantia Textus originales, Hebraicos cum Pentat. Samarit., Chaldaicos, Graecos. Versionumque Antiquarum, Samarit., Chaldaic, Lat. Vulg., Aethopic, Graec. Sept., Syriacae, Arabicae, Persicae. Quicquid comparari poterat, &c., ex vetustis-simis MSS. undique conquisitis, optimisque exemplaribus impressis, summâ fide collatis, &c., &c. Edidit Brianus Waltonus, S.T.D. Imp. T. Roycroft.
—6 vols. fol., London, 1657. (E.)

This is the most valuable edition of the Hebrew Scriptures ever published. It is replete with important critical learning; embraces nine different languages, and is generally accompanied by Castell's Lexicon. The portrait of the editor, usually prefixed to the work, is wanting in this copy. It was commenced in 1653, and finished in 1657. "By permission of Oliver Cromwell, the paper for the work was allowed to be imported free of duty, and an honourable notice of the protector was inserted in the preface. Upon the restoration of Charles II., which took place before the Polyglott was completed, Dr. Walton cancelled some of the leaves, and made great alterations. The notice of Cromwell was suppressed. From this circumstance, the two editions are denominated republican and loyal. Soon after the publication of this work, a papal interdict was issued against it by Alexander VII. Twelve copies are said to have been printed on LARGE PAPER, one of which is in the Library of St. Paul's Cathedral, with the Lexicon on large paper. This Polyglott is of the utmost importance to a critic, not only on account of the extracts which it contains from various important manuscripts, but particularly on account of the Oriental versions from which he must collect various readings to the New Testament. The Septuagint version is printed from the edition of Rome in 1587. The Latin is the Vulgate of Clement VIII. The Chaldee paraphrase is more complete than in any former publication. The edition is enriched with prefaces, treatises on weights and measures, geographical charts, and chronological tables. On page forty-eight of the preliminary matter, at the close of the chapter on the Hebrew and Greek idioms, &c., is the remarkable cancel, said by Mr. Butler (in his Horae Biblicae, p. 100) to be found in every copy of the Polyglott examined by himself and his friends, though he has heard that twelve copies, and twelve only, are without it. The cancel is effected by a reprinted slip of paper pasted over the fourth and fifth directions for determining the sense of Scripture, and the corollary from them, which appear to have been written by a Roman Catholic; and on being observed, were superseded by the reprint above mentioned, which speaks more in the language of a Protestant (High Church) of the Church of England. (Horae Biblicae, vol. i., p. 145.) On the 11th to the 14th pages inclusive of the Prolegomena, are specimens of the Alphabets of the various languages employed in the work, with one of the Chinese. This copy is a loyal one, containing Bishop Walton's Dedication to Charles II., which is so rare that Dr. Clarke, when he published his Bibliographical Dictionary, said there was no such Dedication, though he afterwards saw it. Mr. Butler says he had never seen a copy with the Dedication, but Dr. Dibden mentions seven copies which contain it. [See Bib. Sussexiana, vol. i., p. 50.]

1710-11.—BIBLIA PENTAPLA, das ist, Die Bücher der Heiligen Schrift, des Alten und Neuen Testaments, nach Fünf-facher Deutscher Verdolmetschung, &c.—3 vols. 4to, Wandsbeck, 1710-11. (F.)

This work contains five different German versions. 1. Caspar Ulenberg's Roman Catholic version; 2. Martin Luther's German version; 3. John Piscator's version of the Reformed Church; 4. The Jewish German version of the Old Testament by Joseph Athias, and of the New Testament by John Henry Keitzen; 5. The authorized version of the Belgic Provinces, or Dutch. To these are added the Apocryphal books of the Old Testament, and several of the Apocryphal epistles. The whole are arranged in five small parallel columns on each page, with an Appendix of Registers of Names, Map of Canaan, &c.

FRENCH.*LA SAINCTE BIBLE, au Francoys translata Selon la pure et entiere traduction de St. Hierome, &c. En Auves par Martin Lunpeneur, &c.—Fol., 1534. (F.)

This is the third edition of the French Bible, printed in beautiful Gothic letter, and has numerous curious woodcuts, various readings explanatory of the text, and marginal notes. The title page to the Old Testament is wanting, and much of the preliminary matter; also, the Apocalypse, except the first eight chapters. This edition is in the Index of prohibited books.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, &c.—Fol., Geneva, 1565. (F.)

Imperfect. It has Beza's Epistle, Calvin's Preface, and the usual preliminary matter, marginal readings, notes, &c. It is therefore a Protestant version. All the title pages are wanting; but the following memorandum is written on the cover: "This is the earliest edition of the French Bible, commonly called Calvin's Bible, being printed under his direction by the celebrated Etienne, A.D. 1565. The translation commenced in 1535."

LA SAINCTE BIBLE, en Francois avec les argumens sur chacun livre declarans sommairement tout ce que y est contenu, par Barthel-emi Honorati.—8vo, Lyons, 1582. (F.)

A Catholic version. The figures before each verse are inserted in the text. It has over three hundred wood engravings. It has no title page to the New Testament. A table of Epistles and Gospels to be read in the Churches is appended.

LA BIBLE, qui est toute la Saincte Escripture du vieil et

Noover Testament. Autrement, l'Ancienne et la Nouvelle Alliance. Le tout reue et conferé sur les textes Hebrieux et Grecs, &c.—12mo, Sedan, 1633. (F.)

A Protestant version, printed in a very small but clear letter.

LA BIBLE, qui est toute la Saincte Escripture du vieil et du

Nouveau Testament; autrement l'Ancienne et la Nouvelle Alliance. Le tout reue a conferé sur les textes Hebrieux et Grecs, par les Pasteurs et Professeurs de l'Eglise de Geneve, &c., &c. Imprime pour Jacques Chouët.—Fol., Geneva, 1644. (F.)

A Protestant version, with Beza's Epistle, Calvin's Preface, tables of contents, arguments, summaries, marginal notes, maps, index, &c. It has the Psalms of David in metre, set to music, Prayers, Catechism and Confession of Faith, with a list of quotations from the Old Testament into the New.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, interprete par Jean Diodati. Imprime par Pierre Chovët.—Fol., Geneva, 1644. (F.)

Two copies. This is the first edition of the Protestant version of Diodati, considered by Father Simon as a paraphrase rather than a translation. It has notes, summaries, and parallel passages.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, qui contient le Vieux et le Nouveau Testament. Edition nouvelle, faite sur la version de Geneve, revue et corrigee; enrichie, outre les anciennes notes, de toutes celles de la Bible Flamande, de la plus-part de celles de M. Diodati, et beaucoup d'autres, &c., &c., par les soins de S. et H. Des Marets.—2 vols. fol., Amsterdam, 1669. (F.)

Two copies, both on large paper. This is a Protestant edition, and the most magnificent French Bible ever printed. It was based on the edition of 1652 by P. De Hayes, the most correct then extant. It has notes from the German Bible and the Flamand Bible of 1637, with those of Diodati. The Apocrypha is placed after the New Testament. It has maps of the land of Canaan, the travels of the Apostles, the city of Jerusalem (from Walton's Polyglott), &c., &c.

LE NOUVEAU TESTAMENT de nostre Seigneur Jesus Christ, traduit en François, selon edition Vulgate, avec les differences du Grec. Nouvelle et dernière édition, revue et corrigee tres-exactment, chez Gaspard Miglot, &c.—12mo, Mons, 1673. (F.)

A Catholic edition.

LE NOUVEAU TESTAMENT, c'est a dire la Nouvelle Alliance de nostre Seigneur Jesus Christ.—16mo, 1676. (F.)

This is a Protestant edition, without date, except that of the Psalms of David in Metre at the end of the work, which is 1676.

LE NOUVEAU TESTAMENT de notre Seigneur Jesus Christ, traduit selon l'ancienne edition Latine, corrigee par le commandement du Pape Sixte V., par D. Aurelote.—8vo, Paris, 1677. (F.)

A Catholic edition.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, qui contient l'Ancien et le Nouveau Testament, c'est à dire l'Ancienne et la Nouvelle Alliance, &c.—4to, Geneva, 1690. (F.)

A Protestant translation, with an Epistle to the Reader and Calvin's Preface.

LES PSEAUMES DE DAVID, Mis en rime Francoise, par Clement Marot et Theodore de Beze.—12mo, Amsterdam, 1693. (F.)

LE NOUVEAU TESTAMENT de notre Seigneur Jesus Christ; Explique par des notes conte et Caire, sur le version ordinaire, des Eglises Reformees, avec une Preface generale touchant la verite de la religion chretienne; et diverses autres prefaces particulieres sur chacun des Livres du Nouveau Testament, par David Martin.—4to, Utrecht, 1696. (F.)

One of the best Protestant versions.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, qui contient le Vieux et le Nouveau Testament, &c. Avec le Indices, et remarques necessaires pour l'instruction du Lecteur, et les Psaumes des David, &c.—4to, Amsterdam, 1700. (F.)

This is Calvin's translation, revised by the pastors of Geneva. It is generally called the Geneva Bible. It has the Epistle of Beza and the Preface of Calvin. The Apocrypha is at the end of the volume.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, qui contient le Vieaux et le Nouveau Testament, &c. Le tout revue et conferé sur le textes Hebreux et Grecs, par les pasteurs et les professeurs de l'Eglise de Geneve, &c.—Fol., Amsterdam, 1702. (F.)

A Protestant version, similar to the foregoing.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, &c., expliquees par des notes de Theologie et de Critique sur la version ordinaire des Eglises Reformees, revue sur les Originaux, et retouchee dans la langage, &c., par David Martin, Pasteur de l'Eglise Wallone d'Utrecht. Henry Desbordes, Pierre Mortier, et Pierre Brunel.—2 vols. fol., Amsterdam, 1707. (F.)

This is the first edition of this celebrated Protestant version. It is the Geneva version, revised and corrected so materially as frequently to be considered a new translation. With the usual notes, prefaces, &c., it has some general considerations respecting the Christian religion, which have been printed separately.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, qui contient l'Ancien et le Nouveau Testament.—12mo, Amsterdam, 1710. (F.)

Two copies; one imperfect. Without summaries, marginal notes, or parallel passages. Has the Psalms in Metre, Articles of Faith, Catechism, &c., of the Reformed Churches.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, traduit sur les textes originaux, avec les differences de la Vulgate. Le Gros's version.—12mo, Cologne, 1739. (F.)

This is a Catholic version; partly an original translation, though generally conformed to the Vulgate. The passages in which it differs are inclosed in brackets; and where the translation has been made from the Syriac, Hebrew, Samaritan, or Septuagint, they are marked by particular Italics.

LA SAINTE BIBLE, &c., avec le argumens et les reflexions sur les chaptres de l'Ecriture Sainte et des notes, par J. F. Ostervald.—Fol., Neufchatel, 1772. (F.)

A Protestant version, and is a revision of the Genevan. The argument and reflections are esteemed valuable. This is considered the best edition of Ostervald's Bible. It has the Apocrypha.

LE NOUVEAUX TESTAMENT en Latin et en Francais, traduit par Sacy. Edition ornee de Figures gravees sur les dessins de Moreau le jeune.—4 vols. 8vo, Paris, 1793. (F.)

These four volumes, which contain the Gospels, are the only portion of this fine edition of De Sacy's version in the Library.

THE NEW TESTAMENT, in the Georgian Language (civil character).—4to, St. Petersburg, 1818. (E.)

The civil character is the vulgar idiom, used among the people and in civil affairs; the ecclesiastical is known almost exclusively by the clergy and the learned, and confined to sacred literature. The civil is said to be a corruption of the ecclesiastical, holding a similar relation to it, as the Italian to the Latin. Not only the dialects, but the alphabets also, are different. Previous to the invention of the Armenian letters, the Georgians used the Greek ritual and language in both civil and ecclesiastical affairs. Since then the Georgian alphabet has been formed from the Armenian. The Georgian Psalms, prophetic books, and New Testament were printed at Tiflis at the commencement of the 18th century, and the entire Bible at Moscow in 1743. The Moscow Bible Society have printed two editions of the New Testament from this Bible; one in 1816, of 5000 copies, in the church character; the other of 2000, in 1818, in the civil character; both in quarto. [Henderson's Bible Researches. See Bib. Sussexiana, vol. ii., p. 83, 84.]

NOVUM TESTAMENTUM Graece, cum lectionibus variantibus, &c., &c.—Fol., Rotterdam, 1710. (H.)

"This is a reimpression of Mill's Greek Testament, with the various readings of twelve additional MSS., nine of which were Persian. The principal advantage of this work is, that the readings which Mill had to insert in an Appendix, are incorporated in their proper places. The edition is inferior to Mill's in execution and accuracy. The Greek text is in two columns and distinct verses." [Dibdin's Greek and Latin Classics, vol. i., p. 147.]

NOVUM TESTAMENTUM Graece, (Antiq. et Hodiern.)—12mo, Halle-Sax., 1710. (H.)

This is an ancient and modern Greek Testament. The first London edition of the modern Greek Testament was in 1703, from the version of Myteline, 1638. The preface gave such offence to the Greek bishops and the Patriarch of Constantinople, that it was ordered to be burned. In 1705 it was reprinted, and the offensive passages of the preface omitted.

LATIN.

BIBLIA LATINA VULGATA. Nicolai Jenson.—Fol., Venice,
1476. (H.)

As this is the oldest printed copy of the Sacred Scriptures in the Society's collection, and nearly the oldest ever printed,* the following description by Dr. Dibdin, of a copy of the same edition on vellum, belonging to Earl Spencer, is here given; which agrees exactly with the present copy, with but one or two exceptions: viz., 1st, the omission of a splendid illumination at the beginning of the Pentateuch, representing the ALMIGHTY; and the substitution of one less pretending, but of the same size, representing the Temptation of our first parents in Eden; and, 2d, its being on paper instead of vellum. The volume "begins on the recto of the first leaf, sig. A 2, with the running title 'PROLOGUS.' Beneath, 'INCIPIT EPLA SACTI HIERONYMI AD PAULINU PBRZ, DE OIBQ DIVINE HISTORIE LIBRIS CAPBZ I.' The Prologue occupies five pages, ending on the recto of sig. A 4. On the reverse is St. Jerome's Preface to the Pentateuch. On the recto of the ensuing leaf, A 5, begins the Pentateuch. The volume has running titles throughout. There are two sets of signatures; the first in small Gothic (or black) letter, extending to 4; the second, in capitals, to X 7. There are 10 leaves to each signature, except a few of the latter. Q has 12 leaves; on the reverse of the last of which, at the bottom, is the Colophon:

Biblia impressa Venitiis opera atqz impensa Nicolai Jen-son Gallici MccccLxxvi.

The Interpretationes Hebraicorum nominum,<sup>7</sup> &c., commences on the recto of the ensuing leaf, sig. r. This table is printed in two columns, and concludes on the recto of sig. x 7, in tens, except v, which has only eight leaves:

Expliciunt Interpretatio-
nes hebraicoru nominu
Laus deo.

A blank leaf in sig. h divides the Old from the New Testament. The heads of the chapters are Roman capitals. Seemiller says, the entire work consists of 470 leaves. A full page contains 52 lines. According to the same authority, and to De Bure, there should be a leaf after the preceding Colophon, containing 'Registrum Biblie,' which is wanting in the present copy.<sup>7</sup> [Bibliotheca Spenceriana, vol. i., p. 32.] To this description of the work by Dr. Dibdin, it may be added, that the present copy is complete, having that missing leaf and "Register," and agreeing in all the aforementioned particulars with the description. Like the previous editions, the Book of Psalms has the running title of "PSALMISTA," and number 171 the 119th, being distinctly lettered in each of its 22 sections, and running from the 118th to the 139th number inclusive. The capitals are all illuminated, some of them gilded. "A copy of the first edition of the Latin Vulgate Bible (Jerome's), belonging to the late Mr. James Perry, was purchased by His Royal Highness the Duke of Sussex for 160 guineas." [Library Companion, by Dibdin, p. 13, note.] "A copy of this edition on vellum was purchased at the sale of M. Paris for £59 17s., and was sold again to the Duke of Devonshire for £168." [Biblioth. Sussex., vol. i., p. 322-3.]

BIBLIA SACRA LATINA cu concordantiis Veteris et Novi Testamenti. Sanctus Hieronymus interpres Biblie. Anth. Koberger.—Fol., Nuremberg, 1501. (H.)

This edition of the Vulgate follows the Frobenian of 1495. On the title page, in a woodcut, are two figures of St. Jerome, one sitting, the other kneel-

* The first edition of the Holy Scriptures, and, as is supposed, the first book printed with moveable metallic types, was the Latin Bible, printed by John Guttenberg, (the inventor of printing,) A.D. 1450-5, in 2 vols., fol., at Moguntiae.

ing, under which are the verses: "Simachus atq: Theodotion vel septuaginta," &c., as in the edition of 1495. Gabriel Bruno's "Alphabetical Table of the Books of the Old and New Testaments" follows, and is succeeded by an exhortation to the lovers of sacred literature; a metrical order of the several books, &c. This Bible (preceded by the Prologue of St. Jerome) is printed in two columns, in a large Gothic (or black) letter. The chapters are numbered, and divided into lesser sections, and the parallel places are put in the margin. The capital letters are written in with red and blue ink. At the end of the Apocalypse is an epilogue, closing as follows: "Per Anthonium Koberger, Nurembergae, impressa finit feliciter. Anno post Xri nativitate rno supra Millesimu 7 quinquetesimu die 24 mensis Marcii."

BIBLIA LATINA, cumpleno apparatu summariorum Concordantiorum et quadruplicis repertorii sive indicii; numerique foliorum distinctione tersissime ac verissime impressa. Impressum est per Magistrum Jacobum Sacon.—Fol., Lugduni, 1509. (H.)

Printed in a handsome Gothic letter, with the usual preliminary matter. The margin is filled with MS. notes.

BIBLIA LATINA, &c., (ut supra.) Additi sunt Eusbii pamphib Cesariensis Epidecem canones; et quibus que apud quatuor Evangelistes, vel eadem vel vicina vel sola sunt clarissime apparuit, &c. Impressa Johanne Froben de Hammelburg.—Fol., Basil, 1514. (H.)

Printed in a fair Gothic type, with parallel passages in the margin. Under most of the principal words are written, in a small hand, their definitions in German.

BIBLIA LATINA, VULGATA, cu concordantiis Veteris et Novi Testamenti, et Sacrorum canonum; nec non it additionibus in marginibus varietatis diversos textuum; ac etiam canonibus antiquis quatuor evangeliorum. Novissime autem addite sunt concordantie et Vingtint libris Josephi de Antiquitatibus et Bello Judaico excerpte. Impressa Jacobum Sacon; Ex-pensis notabilis viri Antonii Koberger Nurebergensis, &c.—Fol., Lugduni, 1520. (H.)

Two copies. This edition has many curious woodcuts.

SACRA BIBLIA ad LXX. interpretum fidem diligentissime tralata Basileæ, per Andream Cratandrum.—8vo, Basle, 1526. (H.)

This copy is in oak binding, and has been preserved with great care.

BIBLIA LATINA; ad vetustissima exemplaria nunc recens castigata, Hebraea, Chaldaea, Graeca et Latina nomina virorum, mulierum, populorum, idolorum, urbium, fluviorum, montium, ceterorumque locorum quae in Bibliis loquuntur, restituta cum Latina interpretatione, ac locorum e Cosmographis descriptione, &c., &c. Ex officina Bartholomaei Gravii Typographia.—Fol., Louvanii, 1547. (H.)

"This is the first Louvain edition according to the recension of Hentenius, as approved by the Doctors of Louvain, and is of very considerable rarity. In this edition, the Vulgate is said to have been corrected by thirty MSS. The chapters are numbered, but not the verses. The privilege for printing this edition, granted by Charles V., is in Latin, French, and German.

BIBLIA SACRA, Veteris et Novi Testamenti, juxta Vulgatam, quam dicunt, editionem Joannis Benedicti, Parisiensis, Theologi industria accuratè recognita et emendata, Annorumque a Mundo condito ad Christum usque natu supputatione illustrata, &c., &c. Apud haeredes Carolae Guillard Viduae quondam Claudii Chenallonii.—Fol., Paris, 1558. (H.)

This is the fourth Benedictine edition, and was prohibited. [See Index Lib. Prohib., 1667.]

BIBLIA, VETERIS AC NOVI TESTAMENTI, summa fide ac studio singulari, cum aliorum doctissimorum interpretum, tam vero in primis S. Pagnini ac Fr. Vatab. opera ita ex Hebraeis, Graecis, fontibus expressa, et latinitate donata, veterum insuper codicum aliquot collatione emendata, ut nihil relictum sit quod a pio et sacrae lectionis studioso desiderari posse videatur, &c.—Fol., Basil, 1564. (H.)

This edition of the Latin Bible is very scarce. It is found in the list of books prohibited by the Roman Church. In the Printer's Address it is stated that the Old Testament is Pagnini's version, and the New Testament, the translation of Theodore Beza. Most of the collateral matter is taken from the editions of R. Stephens. The titles of the books are in Hebrew and Latin, or Greek and Latin, according to the translation from one or the other.

TESTAMENTI VETERIS BIBLIA SACRA; sive Libri Canonici priscae Judaeorum, Ecclesiae a Deo Traditi, Latini recens ex Hebraeo facti, brevibusque Scholiis illustrati, ab Immanuele Tremellio et Francisco Junio. Accesserunt Libri Apocryphi, &c. Secunda cura Francisci Junii.—4to, Geneva, 1590. (H.)

Francis Junius was the editor of this edition, and he made many alterations in the Old Testament. His notes are distinguished by the letter F. The New Testament, which is from the London edition of 1585, has additions from the fourth edition of Beza's New Testament, 1588. Notes are added by Tornosius.

TESTAMENTI VETERIS BIBLIA SACRA; sive Libri Canonici priscae Judaeorum, &c., &c., (as above.)—Fol., Hanover, 1603. (H.)

This edition was approved by the Protestant churches, and is still esteemed for its simplicity, perspicuity, and fidelity.

TESTAMENTI VETERIS, &c., &c.—Fol., Hanover, 1603. (H.)

A duplicate copy, (interleaved.)

LIBER PSALMORUM DAVIDIS REGIS ET PROPHETE, ex Arabico Idiomate in Latinum translatus. A Victorio Scialae et Gabriele Lioniti, Ede-niensi Maronitis, e Monte Libano, Prof., &c., &c. Stephanus Paulinus, Typo.—4to, Rome, 1614. (H.)

BIBLIA SACRA, VULGATAE, editionis Sixti Quinti, Pont. Max. IVSSV recognita atque edita. D'Villiers, Typo.—8vo, Lugduni, 1627. (H.)

Prefixed is a Preface to the Reader; the Decree of the Council of Trent; and at the end are Jerome's Prologues and an Index Biblicus.

SPANISH.

See CASTALIO, under Foreign Commentaries, for a version of 1551.

LA BIBLIA, que es, Los Sacros Libros Del Vieio y Nuevo Testamento. Traslada en Español, por Cassiodoro de Reyna.—4to. 1622. (F.)

It has no place of publication. The initials of the translator are at the end of the Preface. On the reverse of the title page are the Decrees of the Council of Trent, from the Index of Prohibited Books, printed in Latin and Spanish. In the Preface, which is in Latin, are two wood cuts representing Ezekiel's vision and the destruction of Tyre. The work contains arguments and summaries to the books, with references and notes explanatory of the Hebrew and Greek readings. The translator is supposed to have been a Protestant, but attached the rules of the Prohibitory Index, to appear a Catholic. The Errata at the end bear date 1569. It is a very rare book, especially in good condition, as is this copy. From a curious device of the printer in the title page, representing a tree with a large hole in the trunk, in which a swarm of bees have made their honey; a mallet suspended from a branch of the tree; and a bear, in an erect posture, endeavouring to rob the hive, this book has been designated "THE BEAR BIBLE." At the foot of the tree lies an open book, covered with bees. [See Pettigrew's Sussexiana, p. 227-30.] From the description given in the same work (p. 232) of the edition of 1622, and from the agreement of the present copy with the above description of the edition of 1569 instead of that edition, there is a manifest discrepancy between the character of the copy and its date.

LA BIBLIA VULGATA LATINA, traducida en Espanol y Anotada conforme al sentido de los Santos Padres y expositores catolicos, por el P. Phelipe Scio de S. Miguel, de las escuelas pias, &c. Segunda edicion.—19 vols. 8vo, Madrid, 1794-97. (F.)

The first edition of this (Scio's) Spanish version of the Vulgate was in ten volumes, folio. In this edition the Old Testament is in fifteen volumes, and the New Testament in four. The text is in double columns, and the notes, which are principally from the ancient Fathers, are arranged below the text.

LIBER ESTHER HEBRAICE. MS. Saec. 23. (D.)

This is a rolled manuscript, and measures 7 feet 2 inches. The Sections are  $3\frac{1}{2}$  by 3 inches. It is written on vellum in small Hebrew characters, and without points or any ornament whatever. The author and date are unknown.

THE FOUR GOSPELS in Syriac. Written in the ancient Estrangelo character; arranged in lessons for the Liturgy of the Jacobite Syrian Church. No date.—Fol. (D.)

The age of this manuscript is not known, though it is obviously of great antiquity. It was given to Dr. Grant, Missionary to the Nestorians, by a Syrian priest at Mosul, and by him presented to the American Bible Society. It is written on paper in a large, bold character, and is very regularly executed.

THE HOLY SCRIPTURES OF THE OLD TESTAMENT, translated into the Turkish Language with the Armenian character, for the use of Armenians who speak principally the Turkish.—4 vols. 4to. (D.)

This is the original translation of the Old Testament into Armeno-Turkish, made under the direction of Rev. Mr. Goodell, (a missionary of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions at Constantinople,) by Dionysius Carabet, an Armenian bishop. It was made at Malta, and afterwards revised by Mr. Goodell and Mr. Pariotes at Constantinople. It was printed at Smyrna at the expense of the American Bible Society.

THE PENTATEUCH; or, Five Books of Moses, in Armenian MS., on paper.—4to. (D.)

A Manuscript translation of the Scriptures into the English language, made by some former member of Princeton College, N. J.—Fol. (G.)

An ancient oriental Manuscript, written on vellum. Unknown.—4to. (D.)

COMMENTARIES IN FOREIGN LANGUAGES.

---

BALDWIN. See SCHMID.

CALVIN, JOHN.—In omnes Pauli Apostoli Epistolas, atque etia in Epistolam ad Hebraeos, Jo. Calvini Commentarii, &c. Etiam, Joannis Calvini Commentarii in Epistolas Canonicas, Petri, Joannis, Jacobi et Judae, &c.—2 vols. in 1, fol., Geneva, 1554-57. (C.)

This edition was printed under the inspection of the author. This copy belonged to the Library of an Independent minister in London, who received it, by a succession of bequests, from a refugee to Geneva during the reign of the bloody Mary, and who returned to England after the accession of Elizabeth.

CALVIN, JOHN.—Commentaires de Jean Calvin, sur les cinq livres de Moyse; or, the Commentaries of John Calvin, (in French,) on the Book of Genesis, with a Harmony of the other four Books of the Pentateuch.—Fol., Geneva, 1564. (C.)

This edition has a curious and rather mysterious vignette on the title page.

CARRIER, PERE.—Le Nouveau Testament de notre Seigneur Jesus Christ, traduit en Francaise, avec le Commentaire literal du Pere Carrieres dans le Texte, et des Notes explicative, morales et dogmatique, pour en faciliter l'intelligence, &c.—8vo, Quebec, 1846. (C.)

This is a Roman Catholic version from the Vulgate, with a Commentary.

CASTALIA, SEBASTIAN.—Biblia interprete Sebastiano Castalione una cum ejusdem Annotationibus.—Fol., Basil, 1551. (F.)

"This is a copy of the first edition of this version. It is printed in Italian type, and is said to be the first Bible so printed. The annotations are at the end of the work, in Roman type. Castalia was employed eight years on this version of the Bible. His object was to translate the Scriptures into elegant Latin, like that of the ancient classics. He has been censured by some, and vindicated by others, particularly by Professor Dathe and Dr. Campbell." [Lowndes' Librarian, p. 37.]

CHRYSOSTOM, ST.—A Commentary on the Epistle to the Galatians, in Modern Greek.—Malta, 1833. (C.)

DEAN, W.—The Book of Exodus in Chinese, with Notes.—8vo, Hongkong, 1851. Pamphlet. (D.)

JARCHI, SOLOMON.—The Pentateuch in Hebrew, with the Commentary of Solomon Jarchi; with the Books of Canticles, Ruth, Lamentations, Ecclesiastes, and Esther, and the Kapthoroth, or Lessons for the Sabbaths and Festivals, with Masoretic Notes. Second edition.—4to, Venice, A. M. 5367—A. D. 1607. (H.)

LAMPE, FREDERIC ADOLPH.—Uitlegging van het Evangelie van den H. Johannes, &c.; or, A Commentary on the Gospel of St. John, translated into Dutch from the Latin of Frederic Adolph Lampe, Professor, &c., at Utrecht. Written in 1723.—4to, Rotterdam, (Date gone.) Imperfect. (C.)

LAPIDE.—R. P. C. Cornelii a Lapide e Societate Jesu, Sacrae Scripturae, olim Lovanii, postea Romae, Prof. Commentaria in S. Scripturam. Editio novissima anterioribus auctior et correctior, ac Indicibus necessariis illustrata.—10 vols. fol., Venice, 1761. (B.)

“This is the work of a learned French Jesuit, and is, by some critics, regarded as a chef d’œuvre of erudition. He wrote on the entire Bible, except the Books of Job and Psalms. It contains a great mass of learning, mixed up with legends, fables, and many weak and foolish things.” [Lowndes’ British Librarian, p. 115.]

LOWRIE, W. M.—A Commentary on the Gospel by Luke, in the Chinese Language.—8vo. Pamphlet. (D.)

MOLLER, D. HENRICI.—Enarrationis Psalmorum Davidis, ex praelectionibus D. Henrici Molleri, Hambergensis. Novissima Editio, prioribus emendatior.—Fol., Geneva, 1619. (C.)

“The author was a Calvinist, and an eminent Hebraist, and the work is said to be a judicious explication.”

MUTHESIUS, ZACHARIAH.—Novi Testamenti versionis Vulgatae, correctae, ad Normani Libri Concordiae, cum additionibus locorum communium paraphrasticis, et explicatione locorum controversorum genuina, &c.—4to, Frankfort, 1611. (H.)

This work is in two parts; the first containing the four Evangelists and the Acts of the Apostles; the second, the Epistles and the Apocalypse. The commentary, which is very full and runs through the work, is thus stated in the title: Filo Dnn. Hunnii, Mylii, Rungii, Brentii, Chemnith: tum, si qua opus fuit verae doctrinae hostium, deducta et agglomerata.

PISCATOR, JOHN.—Analysis Logica Epistolae Pauli ad Romanos; una cum Scholiis et observationibus locorum doctrinae Authore Johan Piscatore, Prof., &c. Fourth edition.—12mo, Herborn, (Nassau,) 1668. (C.)

CASTELL, EDMUND, S.T.D., &c.—Lexicon Heptaglotton, Hebraicum, Chaldaicum, Syriacum, Samaritanum, Aethiopicum, Arabicum, conjunctim; et Persicum, separatim. In quo omnes voces Hebraeae, Chaldaeae, Syrae, Samaritanae, Aethiopicae, Arabicae, et Persicae, tam in MSS. quam impressis libris, cumprimis autem in Bibliis Polyglottis, adjectis hinc inde Armeniis, Turcicis, Indis, Japonicis, &c., ordine alphabetico, sub singulis radicibus digestae, continentur, &c., &c., cui accessit Brevis et Harmonica Grammaticae omnium praecedentium, Linguarum Delineatio.—2 vols. fol., London, 1669. (C.)

"It is said that Dr. Castell and his assistants were employed seventeen years in the composition of this work. He spent twenty years in the public service; above £12,000 of his own estate; and for a reward, was left, at the close of the work, over £1,800 in debt. This forced him to make his condition known to the king, (Charles II., to whom the work is dedicated,) of whom he petitioned that a jail might not be his reward for so much service and expense." "Charles wrote to the bishops and noblemen of the realm, recommending Castell and his work to their pity and protection; the bishops and noblemen, in their turn, recommended the author to the public; and thus, between the king, his court, and the public, Dr. Castell never received a farthing." "He maintained in his own house, and at his own expense, seven Englishmen and seven foreigners, as writers, all of whom died before the work was completed. In allusion to this, he says, 'I had once companions in my undertaking, but some of them are now no more, and others have abandoned me, alarmed at the immensity of the work. I am now, therefore, left alone, without amanuensis or corrector; far advanced in years; with my patrimony exhausted, my bodily and mental strength impaired, and my eyesight almost gone.' Such were the melancholy circumstances under which the Lexicon of Castell was composed." [Dibdin.] This work generally accompanies the London (or Walton's) Polyglott, and from the Preface to the latter work, seems to have been regarded as a supplement to it.
